They left the canal bridge on Seventh street at 3:55 o'clock, and pursued the tow-path to the Three-Mile lock, pausing occasionally to gather wild flowers that glistened in the golden sunlight along the canal bank. At the lock named a brief rest was taken for the purpose of quenching thirst with a draught of Nature's pure and unadulterated beverage, whose petal-drops freely oozed from the hillside. From thence the party continued their walk to the Powhatan Iron-Works, located at the Five-Mile locks. PASSION SUNDAY IN THE CATHOLIC AND EPISCOPAL CHURCHES_BAPTISMS_ NEW METHODIST CHURCH DEDICATED, &c., &c.

Sunday was the fifth Sunday in Lent, or Passion Sunday, and as such was duly observed in all the Catholic and Episcopal churches. In the Catholic churches the crucifixes on the alter, statues, and pictures were draped in purple, typical of the solemnity of the occasion. In the Catholic calendar the whole of the last fortnight of Lent is known as Passiontide, and the church services during these two weeks are different from any other part of the year, being of a more solemn and penitential character. CATHOLIC.

At St. Peter's Cathedral the day was observed by the celebration of solemn highmass by Rev. Father Moore, with Rev. Father Janssens as deacon and Rev. Father Wheat was allowed to address the Council Hapley as sub-deacon, and Mr. James O'Farand set forth a plan for building a grand rel as master of ceremonies. Father Jane priate to the day. At night Right Rev. Bishop Gibbons preached an able discourse on "The Perpetuity of the Church."

The Forty Hours' Devotion incident to the season was begun after high-mass, the plessed sacrament being borne by the Right Rev. Bishop in solemn procession around the interior of the church, and then deposited in the ostensorium, on the taberpacle, where it will remain exposed for the adoration of the faithful until this morning after high-mass, which will be celebrated at 8 o'clock, when it will be returned to its usual depository with the same impressive ceremonies.

Memorare, were effectively sung by the choir Sunday during mass, and the Pange Lingua during the movements of the procession. The singing at night was also very fine. Next Sunday night Bishop Gibbons will deliver the last of his series of Lenten discourses, on which occasion his subject will be "The Resurrection of the Flesh,"

BAPTIST. At the Grace-Street Baptist church one person was received for baptism and one by letter. Rev. J. B. Turpin, of Halfax county, preached an admirable sermon in the morn-

During the past week there has been a re vival of deep interest at the Clay-Street chapel. Rev. R. T. Hanks, one of the students of Richmond College, has been preaching very acceptably to large congregations every night. About ten persons have professed conversion, and the prospects are bright for a deeply-interesting revival. Preaching every night this week.

At Leigh-Street church, at the communion service in the afternoon, ten members were received into the church.

At the close of the Sunday-school in the morning Mr. A. B. Clarke called attention to the fact that the infant-class room had been handsomely adorned with a large number of appropriate pictures, mottoes, &c. ; that R. L. Brown, Esq., had presented to the class a beautiful Bible, and E. Kersey, Esq., an excellent clock, for which services the superintendent, Mr. M. E. Turpin, called for a vote of thanks, which was unanimously and most gratefully accorded. The room is certainly one of the handsomest and best suited for the purposes in the city, and the gifts above alluded to were all that was needed to make it complete in all respects.

At Oregon church on Sunday morning the pastor preached, and at night the Rev. D. P. Wills officiated. The congregations large morning and night, and the communion service deeply interesting. Those who joined the church during the revival participated in the communion.

At Clay-Street church the congregations in attendance on Sunday filled the house to overflowing, it being the occasion of the reopening service, which was of a very interesting nature. The sermons, morning and night, were preached by Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., of Randolph-Macon College. His morning text was taken from John, iv., 35-38. Subject: "The Christian's Life-Work." At night, Luke, xiv., 33. Subject: "The law of limitation in Christian discipleship." Both discourses were of a very high order. Of course, those who know Dr. Duncan would expect such sermens from him.

On the application of the pastor, Rev. F. A. Peterson, the congregation promptly contributed in cash and subscriptions the amount necessary to complete the sum needed to pay for the improvements which have been put on the building.

The congregation is to be congratulated on the very tasteful and comfortable manner in which their church edifice has been fitted up. It is now one of the most beautiful and pleasant houses of worship in the city, and, what is very commendable, all the work has been accomplished without incurring a burdensome debt, and the church is in a prosperous condition. On next Sabbath about fifty persons wil be received into the fellowship of the church, to a large number of whom the rite of baptism will be administered by the pastor. At the Broad-Street church on Sunday morning the Rev. D. P. Wills, presiding elder, preached. At night the pastor occupied the pulpit. PRESBYTERIAN.

In the morning Dr. Hoge preached a sermon on the doctrine of the Holy Trinity from the words found in Matthew xxvii. 19: "In the name of the Father, the Son and of the Holy Ghost," In the afternoon (according to his custom several times during the year, his sermon was to the children and youth of his congregation, from Matthew xili., 31, 32. The church was crowded. The children listened with interested attention, and their singing was unusually spirited. LUTHERAN.

At the First English Lutheras church the pastor, Rev. W. C. Schaeffer, preached in the morning from the text, Ephesians iv., 32; in the evening from Hebrews ii., 3. The pastor will hold regular services in this church every evening this week at 8 o'clock, assisted by Rev. L. A. Fox, of Waynesboro', Va.

THE WALKER LIGHT GUARD REFUSES TO ACCEPT CAPTAIN BASS'S RESIGNATION .- The Walser Light Guard (Company B), one of the finest companies in the First Virginia regiment, met last night and unanimously decided to memorialize the Governor not to accept the resignation of Captain L. L. Biss, which has been forwarded to him, and appointed a committee to wait upon his Excelency and urge him to accede to their wishes. Captain Bass will, of course, continue to serve the company after such a compliment. REPORTED AGAIN -Mr. O. J. Schoolcraft

VALUABLE CONTRIBUTIONS TO IMPAR TIAL HISTORY.

The March No. of the Southern Historical Society papers, which will be ready for delivery in two or three days, will be a most mportant and valuable historical decument. It is a full vindication of the Confederate Government against the charge of crucity to change prisoners were made by the Confederacy; that the Federal Government agreed on a cartel when the Confederates had the excess of prisoners, in the early part of January, 1862, which they coolly repudiated as soon as the captures at Henry and Donaldson gave them the excess of prisoners; that when the campaign of the summer of 1862 to pay costs. again gave the Confederates the excess of agreed to a cartel, about the execution of which there was no sort of difficulty until Vicksburg and Gettysburg again gave the Federals the excess of prisoners; and that their course from that time until the end of the war was one which plainly meant that there should be no exchange of prisoners.

It shows that the law of the Confederate Congress and the orders of the departments provided that prisoners of war should have precisely the same rations, in quantity and quality, as were issued to Confederate soldiers in the field, and that prison hospitals should be placed on the same footing as other hospitals, and that these orders were rigidly carried out. It gives a full expose of the causes of the fearful mortality at Andersonville, and shows that they were beyond the control of the Confederate authorities. Haydn's Mass, No. 2, and Lambillotte's

It brings out the fact that after the cartel was suspended and all efforts on the part of our commissioner of exchange (Judge Ould) to resume it or establish a new one had failed, he made at different times these disshould be allowed to send surgeons, with supplies to care for their prices of the supplies to care for the supplies of the supplies to care for the supplies of th supplies, to care for their prisoners. 2. That the Federal authorities might send their surgeons, medicines, and supplies without granting the same privilege to the Confede rates. 3. That the Confederate Government should be allowed to purchase in the North (paying gold, cotton, or tobacco) needed medicines which they pledged themselves to use only for Federal prisoners; and that each and all of these prcpositions were rejected. It brings out that Judge Ould finally informed them in August, 1864, of the fearful mortality among their prisoners, and proposed that if they would send transportation to Savannah be would return them, without any equivalent, 15,000 of their sick, and that this bumane proposition was not accepted until the last of November—the greatest mortality at Andersonville occurring during this period.

These and other points are proven by incontrovertible official documents. Statements from President Davis, General Lee, Vice-President Stephens, Secretary Seddon, and Join: Committee of the Confederate Congress on the Treatment of Prisoners (a rare and very able document). A very able paper from Dr. Joseph Jones, of New Orleans, and statement from Dr. B. R. Stevenson show the causes of the mortality at Andersonville, and an able paper from General J. D. Imboden, the last commandant of Andersonville, gives some new and interesting points.

But one of the most valuable papers in the number is a letter from Hon, R. G. H. Kean, who was chief clerk in the Confederate War at reduced prices, at ARCHER & BOOKER'S. Department, giving an exceedingly interesting history of the famous report of Colonel sonville in August, 1864, which the northern papers have rung the changes on ever since the Wirz trial. This letter, and an extract doubt that so far from conniving at cruelty to prisoners the Confederate Government did everything in its power to alleviate their condition. These and other documents given are simply invaluable to all who want to know the truth. PERSONAL .- Rev. Dr. Edwards will leave to-day for Norfolk, to spend a few days in assisting Rev. William E. Edwards in protracted religious services at Granby-Street Methodist church. Senator John L. Eubank, of Bath county is detained in Richmond attending his brother, who came here recently from Iowa, and is ill. As soon as he gets sufficiently well both will go to the Warm Springs, where Colonel Eubank resides. Mr. Meade C. Kemper, son and secretary of the Governor, is detained from his duties by a temporary indisposition. Captain William English is convalescing from a protracted illness. Judge Alfred Morton, of this city, has been appointed a special agent of the Post-Office Department. It is said that this appointment has a political significance in Conkling's favor. The appointment is said to be worth $3,000 a year. Judge Hughes arrived here yesterday Judge Bond will come Friday. Colonel William S. Gilman is to be asso ciated with Captain Chamberlayne on the State. The Whig states that " Mr. Starke, of the City Committee, will at its next meeting submit a plan for the nomination of candidates, which he will offer as a substitute for the primary-election plan. Mr. Starke's plan is to select five gentlemen from each ward who have no political aspirations, and for them to nominate the different city officers." Rev. A. E. Dickinson preached on foreign missions in the First Baptist church in Washington, D. C., on last Sunday, and raised a handsome sum for the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Senator W. D. Quesenberry sailed from New York in the Baltic for Europe on Saturday last. The members of the McGill Lyceum were handsomely entertained at their rooms, in the Cathedral building, last night by Mr. Tony Wendlinger, the occasion being the celebration of that young gentleman's twenty-first birthday. The refision was a pleasant affair, and the host of the occasion received the best wishes of all for a happy and prosperous future.
